Gateway moves to new lunch payment system

Huntington – Gateway Food Service Director Tasha Hartley has announced that the district has moved to a new payment system for families called “My School Bucks”.

Under this new program, parents will be able to set up their own account for their Gateway student, where they can make advance (or even automatic) payments for school breakfast and lunch; check their student’s cafeteria balance and review purchases; and receive alerts when their balance gets low.

“This new system will make accessing student accounts so much more user friendly and transparent.” said Hartley.

Parents/guardians can go to www.myschoolbucks.com or download the free app to set up their account.

Anyone with questions is advised to contact the Food Services Office at 685-1005.
