The Academic Assessment Pyramid summarizes the connections among the assessments that form the assessment leg of the stool in the educational success metaphor.

- Classroom assessments form the foundation since they impact students every day.
- MCAS is at the smallest part of the pyramid because it has least impact on daily use of assessment to adjust instruction to meet student learning needs.