Grandfriends Day growing at Gateway elementary schools!

Huntington – Chester and Littleville Elementary Schools are pleased to announce that their third annual Grandfriends Day, held on the half-day before Thanksgiving, reached record levels this year with a combined total of 334 grandparents and ‘grandfriends’ taking part on November 23.

This is the third year that the schools offered the event, with attendance reaching new heights each year. Last year, just over 200 grandparents and grandfriends attended.

Grandparents and grandfriends (who might be another relative, family friend or neighbor) visited classrooms and worked with their students on crafts and classroom activities. Guests were at the schools for about two hours, with some dividing their time between multiple grandchildren.

It was back to school for the grandparents/friends of Littleville fifth graders, who worked together to complete an engineering project.
